

NO MANE PROBLEM

Neeta's Herbal offers a safe and natural solution to combat hair problems

THERE are many reasons why a person can start losing their hair. Research has shown that stress plays a vital factor in determining hair condition.

Poor hair care, environment, lifestyle and diet too have its effect on hair condition.

A number of things can also cause excessive hair fall.

For example, about three or four months after an illness or a major surgery, you may suddenly lose a large amount of hair.

This hair fall is related to the stress of the illness.

Hormonal problems may cause hair fall as well. If your thyroid gland is overactive or underactive, your hair may fall out.

Hair fall may occur if male or female hormones, known as androgens and estrogens, are out of balance.

Many women would experience hair fall about three months after they've had a baby.

This hair problem is also related to hormonal changes.

What's more, certain fungal infections and chemical products can cause hair fall too.

However, men and women of all ages need not fret anymore because Neeta's Herbal offers a safe and natural solution to combat hair problems.

A pioneer in Ayurveda-based hair therapy, Neeta Gosalia has been practicing herbal therapy for the past 23 years, and owns 34 outlets worldwide.

While lustrous, healthy hair is a source of pride for men and women alike, many are forced to battle various types of hair problems.

Neeta introduced her corrective formulas after years of search for a product to halt hair fall.

Commonly encountered hair dilemmas among clients are, she explains, hair fall, premature greying, hereditary receding hairline, male pattern receding hair problem, alopecia areata or patchy hair loss and dandruff.

Neeta's Herbal skincare therapy is also unique and effective in combating skin problems such as blemishes, black heads, white heads, scars, fine lines, under eye dark circles, skin discoloration and the removal of facial hair.

They also provide hair wigs, hair extension, as well as customised wigs for those undergoing therapy.
